Arab countries and Germany traditionally share close business ties. Trade volume has more than doubled since 2002, reaching around 50 billion euro in 2014. But full potential has not been tapped yet. Especially in the long term, the economic perspectives for the Arab countries are excellent and offer many opportunities. With more than 360 million inhabitants, the Arab world is a huge market for business and investment. German companies are highly welcome business partners and German products and services enjoy great popularity. With an economic growth of 1.6 percent in 2014, Germany is considered to be Europe's growth locomotive. Thanks to its central location in Europe, its first-class infrastructure and its excellent business climate, Germany is a perfect hub for companies entering the European market with 500 million potential customers. To further strengthen and enlarge these sustainable relations, the Ghorfa Arab-German Chamber of Commerce and Industry will host the 18th Arab-German Business Forum at The Ritz-Carlton Hotel, Berlin on June 08th-10th, 2015. The forum is held under the patronage of the German Federal Minister for Economic Affairs and Energy, H.E. Sigmar Gabriel and organized in cooperation with the General Union of Arab Chambers of Commerce (GUCCIAAC), the League of Arab States and the Association of German Chambers of Commerce and Industry (DIHK). More than 600 leading experts and decision-makers from business, politics and science will attend this high-ranking conference, which presents the essential networking platform to create new and enhance existing business relationships. The forum will address current and perspective Arab-German cooperation in the fields of infrastructure, security technologies, industrialization, free zones, financial services, EPC projects, construction & housing, and the role of women in business.
